

SOME MORINGS: A PARKIE BLUES

by Wayne A. Gilbert

(after "ain't goin' down this time" by Tony Joe White)

some mornings i wake up some morning i never do some days i get in gear some days i never do some days i feel like dancing some days i can't remember how today i waited and waited lingerind deep under covers i wanted to know before i moved which way i ws gonna go i scanned my body's surface took a deep deep dive below just to take a reading how it's gonna go

i heard the blues come back to me the blues are always playing i heard guitar organ chords the drums kick up a beat the bass finally the voice lowdown said today might be the day you find your way back home today you just might find the way back home
get up
get up
get up and go

took my meds peeled off my covers slid my legs off the mattress to the floor got up
got up
got up got out
came over here
came over her and found y'all
got up got out
found you here
got up
found you here
